ALTAMURA is an Italian Specialty Store, created by two sisters with first-hand knowledge of products with nutritional and sensory goodness from their home region.

"We have combined original, home-made recipes, sauces, locally-sourced specialty cheeses, meats and a one-of-a-kind, stone-baked pizza crust made with naturally fortified durum semolina wheat, from our home in Southern Italy.

The region of Altamura is world-renown as having the number one rated bread in Europe. Our crust is hand-tossed by master pizzaioli, stone-baked to form the foundation of a unique taste and quality unmatched in the Chicagoland area.

We have found that people that have gluten sensitivity or gluten allergies can eat our pizza because the wheat is not over-processed and does not have all the GMOs and toxins from pesticides that American wheat has – AND it is DELICIOUS!
